

ROMEO & JULIET

ACT I, SCENE V

Everyone begins to arrive at the Capulet's masquerade

welcome men & ladies!
Ladies don't be afraid to dance, now. Musicians Play! Start dancing, girls! we need more lights!
Quench the fire servants, for it is too hot in here.

How long has it been since we've had a party like this?
It has been 30 years!
No way it has been THAT long.

Sir, do you happen to know who that lady is across the dance hall?

I do not know.

She teaches the torches to burn bright! She is like a jewel Her beauty is too rich to use, too precious for this world. She is like a dove surrounded by crows. When the dance is done, I shall bless my hand by touching that of such beauty. I have never seen true beauty before.
